During my time as a student I have been able to develop the way I learn and interact with others to a degree that has also helped me to mature into a better person. I have come to believe that this maturity will help me to develop into a better thinker as well, one that has the patience to listen and take consideration of what others have to say. I consider the act of learning two way avenue that has to be taken seriously. It is one that involves the teacher, and the protégé. It has been and will continue to be my absolute goal as a student to become a diligent protégé and acquire all of learning my teachers have set in front of me. The way each of them have helped me to think about how my actions, and the way I choose to study my lessons and develop as a student, has made a tremendous impact on my life. A Place where distinguished professors teach and conduct research.

My experience at the department of statistics, VNSGU was tremendous. I found the course curriculum to be very challenging but rewarding. I had many professors in the department who inspired my best efforts and who helped me greatly. Dr. P. C. Gupta, Dr. R. T. Ratani, Dr. C. Ashok and Dr. R. D. Patel just to name a few...provided the needed challenge in each course, but not without the support to succeed. I was also a teaching faculty at department for 13 years. I learnt not only statistics as a subject as a student but also got an experience to convey this subject to my students. My both experiences were excellent and proud to be a part of department of statistics.
